

While working as a computer programmer for IBM, Rob took a leap of faith and followed his dream of becoming a stand-up comedian. That decision launched a career that has made him one of the most sought-after comedians in the country.

Known for his high-energy style, quick wit, and infectious personality, Rob has earned numerous honors, including Maxim Magazine's "Comedian of the Year," Campus Activities Magazine's "College Comic of the Year," Budweiser's "Real Man of Comedy," and NBC's Last Comic Standing named him "The Happiest Comic in America."

A graduate of Chicago's famed Second City, Rob combines improvisation, audience interaction, and sharp storytelling to create a show that is fresh, spontaneous, and uniquely his own. He has appeared on Comedy Central's Nick Swardson's Pretend Time, Last Call with Carson Daly, The Best Damn Sports Show Period, and numerous national television commercials. Rob was also the $25,000 winner of the CBS network summer hit reality show, "Fire me Please."

Today, Rob headlines comedy clubs, theaters, corporate events, and cruise ships worldwide. Having performed on more than 400 cruises for nine major cruise lines, he has established himself as one of the premier cruise comedians in the industry.
